McDougall Energy makes donation to Georgetown Hospital

McDougall Energy, which acquired Chalmers Fuels about a year ago, donated $10,000 to Georgetown Hospital Foundation Wednesday (Dec. 3) to go toward top priority cardiac care equipment at the hospital. The company has a tradition of supporting causes that benefit people in the communities where they operate. On hand for the cheque presentation were from left; Curtis Smith of McDougall Energy, Chair of the Georgetown Hospital Foundation Development and Donor Recognition Committee Heather Kaufman, Committee member Shelley Phipps, and Georgetown Hospital Foundation Executive Director K.C. Carruthers.
